

Wolf Trap National Park

ACTION

On February 20th 2023, Hiking Heroes hiked yet again on the Wolf Trap National Park! Although the weather was slightly chilly, we traversed through the woods and managed to pick up lots of garbage scattered around the park!

EXPERIENCE

This trail is one of the more adventurous ones around the DMV area. It has lots of twists and turns, steep hills, and bridges over several tiny rivers: We found this hike to be a little trickier, but fun regardless of the obstacles!

Trash was littered throughout the entire park, ranging from candy wrappers to plastic bags. However, we managed to pick up everything in sight! Due to the amount of trash in our bags, we decided that this was a very productive hike!

MEMBER'S THOUGHTS

Despite the cold gusts and long trail, the hike itself proved to be rather entertaining! Despite the fact that we hiked this trail not too long ago, we agreed that Wolf Trap Park is a very fun experience, and we cannot wait to return this year!
