

Turkey Run Park

ACTION

On July 7/25/21, Hiking Heroes went on a hike at Turkey Run Park! The area was quite secluded, with a thin path and challenging parts. The weather was hot and humid, but the fun we had on the hike distracted the group from the stifling weather. There were many beautiful streams and plants that we encountered along the way, and the trail was definitely eye-catching.

EXPERIENCE

What an adventure it was! The trail has many twists and turns, and the group ended up missing a fork in the trail. We had walked for quite a while in the opposite direction before realizing what had gone wrong. There were many obstacles we had to evade, like crossing streams on rocks. There was even a tree trunk over a little river that a few members marched across. It was an experience to say the least! The club picked up a few bits and pieces of trash, but were delighted to find that this park was well kept.

MEMBER'S THOUGHTS

It was encouraging to see that there wasn't much trash to be found. The hike itself was demanding, yet exciting. Each step brought new surprises and we would recommend it to any other people or members that are in search of an entertaining experience!
